

The Daisy Gonzalez line began in Late November of 2008 with a small 6 piece "Holiday" Gown Collection of all of handmade designs.

Shortly after being sought out by "Project Runway (Season 5)" alumni Jerrell Scott, the collection was placed in the Boutique formerly known as "The Project Runway Boutique" which he co-owned.

In 2009, wearing one of her own pieces, Daisy was chosen as the most fashionable contestants and winner of the "Confessions of a Shopaholic" contest by the infamous Patricia Field. This gave Daisy the opportunity to meet her in person, where Patricia Field complimented her by saying she had a "good eye" for fashion and described her designs as "beautiful."

From then on, the Daisy Gonzalez line has been showcased in some of the most recognized venues in Hollywood and in the greater Los Angeles area. More recently, Daisy Gonzalez showcased her Spring 2011 collection during L.A. Fashion Week.

Latin America's leading television network, Univision, also showcased her Spring 2011 collection recently in a televised Fashion segment. Daisy was then asked to step in as the fashion expert for the Latin Grammy's "Best and Worst Dressed" news segment.

Currently, the Daisy Gonzalez line can be found exclusively at La Maison de Fashion boutique on the iconic Melrose strip. This has lead her garments to fall in the hands of the most recognizable celebrities in Hollywood, including "Basketball Wives," Gloria Govan, Actress Megan Holder and Brittany Binger from E!'s Reality Television show, "Kendra."
